First Church Chimes

Friends,

Having just returned from our Indiana Annual Conference, we are about to begin a new year together. As I begin my third year of ministry alongside you, we are saying goodbye to Pastor Tom Ream and his family and saying hello to Pastor Scott Carmer (you can read a little bit more about him elsewhere in this newsletter!). At Annual Conference we confirm through ordination and commissioning those who are in the beginning years of their ministry (Pastor Michael Lawson) and we honor those who are retiring. We celebrate the missions and ministries of our Annual Conference and our local churches, we set budgets and goals. This year we spent a fair amount of time electing lay and clergy members who will represent us at our General and Jurisdictional Conferences next year. We eat meals together, we worship together, we share stories, we challenge one another, and make ourselves accountable.

We begin with 2 separate sessions, one for the laity and one for clergy. I actually think that the laity session must have been a lot more fun because they had liturgical dancers and ice cream afterwards, but I'm not complaining. ☺

In our session, after the ordination candidates were approved, one of our retiring pastors shared about his journey into ministry. It was a great reminder of how we all—clergy and laity—participate in calling people into the work and life of the church.

Reverend Kent Millard has been pastor of Saint Luke UMC in Indianapolis for the past 18 years where 3,000 people worship each week in ten different worship services in three different locations. (Cool, eh? They have 7 pastors plus administrative and program staff.)

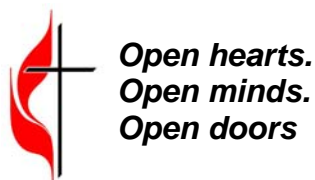

Kent grew up in South Dakota where his family life was dominated by his father's alcoholism. His father would go to the bar in the little town where they lived and be served by the bartender who was also the town sheriff and who would arrest him later for his drunkenness. But one day while at an AA meeting, his father was touched by God. He came home and announced to the family that they were going to church.

The 11 year old boy was embarrassed by his father and the last thing he wanted to do was go to church. But the church's unconditional love and acceptance changed the life of everyone in his family. "I didn't know anything about God, but I knew about church people." And a seed was planted.

A pastor invited him to consider ordained ministry in his college years. The seed grew.

When you and I open our arms and receive those whom God has placed before us, we act as Christ's hands and feet. We help to heal our broken world. We plant seeds, we nurture growth, and we change lives. You and I can't even begin to see the amazing things that God can do through even the most simple of acts. Like loving an embarrassed 11 year old who would rather be anywhere else but there. Like inviting someone to worship or to your small group. Like sharing a word of hope with a neighbor or a coworker going through tough times.

We're the church. That's our task. Welcome the stranger. Offer God's love. Plant some seeds.

Hi Friends,

I remember a couple of occasions during my elementary school years when my family would visit my grandparents at their home in Millersburg and be treated to a lake visit. Sometimes, we would pass up Syracuse and Wawasee and head down to Center Lake in Warsaw. I remember jumping off the big concrete pier into the water. Little could I have imagined that I would return one day as one of the pastors at First UMC. Needless to say, I am thrilled to be here and to begin this new chapter in my life, the life of the church, and certainly in the life I share with Toni.

Perhaps there are some who would like a little background information about your newest staff member. I was born and raised in Fort Wayne, baptized at Forest Park Methodist Church, graduated from North Side High School (where I was a band geek and met a cute pom-pom girl named Toni who took my breath away). I have spent a number of years of my ministry either in the city or in surrounding communities.

Not knowing what I really wanted to do with my life after high school, I took two years to earn an Associate Degree in Mental Health Technology at Purdue. Along the way, I received my call to ministry, transferred to Indiana University, and earned a BA in Sociology in 1976. (The result is that I don't know who to cheer for during the Old Oaken Bucket game. On the other hand, my team always wins). Then it was off to the Iliff School of Theology at the University of Denver where I received my M.Div. Later on I earned a D.Min. at the Ashland School of Theology in Ashland, Ohio.

It is such a humbling experience to know that God has placed me in this location at this time for this ministry. It is a task I do not take lightly, and ask for your continued prayers for our common witness. I look forward to getting to know you. I am convinced that God has great plans for our ministry together.

See you in church.

Scott Carmer

THANK YOU for all of your cards, gifts, and good wishes as we leave to continue our ministry with the congregation of Marion First UMC. Over the past three and a half years, we have been blessed to be a part of the Warsaw community and the Warsaw First UMC. Our family and the church have been through many things together during that time. Particularly, our loss of Owen stands out, and your support and prayers meant so much to us. Melissa and I still talk about how difficult it must be for people to face the challenges of life without a church family behind them. Thank you for being there for us and I hope that we were able to be there for you through your ups and downs as well.

May God bless you in your on-going efforts to be faithful and fruitful. We pray that the good work that God has begun in you will come to completion.

IN CHRIST,
Pastor Tom & Melissa Ream and Kate, Anna, & Corinne

Church Archives

In July, the last four Fallen Soldiers of WWII will be featured. They are: Cameron Robinson, the brother to Ruth Shenefield; Ed Stapleton, whose sister-in-law I contacted to find out more about him; Jack Thomas, my uncle’s best friend and the one who triggered this whole quest; and Glen Wiltrout who perished when his ship was wrecked in a storm at sea.

If you know of others who were associated with our church and who died in more recent wars; please notify me or the office, so that we may honor them too.

Making the Connection

How much sleep is the right amount?

It varies from person to person, but generally 7-8 hours for an adult is good. Too much or too little sleep can have negative effects such as poor concentration, disturbed mood, and increased vulnerability to colds or other illnesses. Of course, getting 7-8 hours of sound sleep per night is easier said than done, but there are some things you can do to improve the quality of your sleep. For starters, do your best to establish a routine time to go to sleep and wake up. Ideally, bedtime should even stay consistent across weekdays, weekends, vacations, and holidays. Exercise regularly, but not right before bed. Avoid heavy meals, alcohol, caffeine, and nicotine late in the day. Don't use your bedroom as an office, computer room, craft room, TV room, etc. Don't text or make phone calls from your bed. If you can't sleep, get up and do something non-stimulating, such as reading, until you feel sleepy. Look around your bedroom at night and notice how dark it is—lights from clocks, telephones, televisions, DVD players, computers, etc. can combine to brighten a room considerably. If you tend to have trouble sleeping because your mind is occupied with stress about tomorrow, take a couple of minutes to organize the next day before you go to bed. Make lists, run through your schedule, and work out any details you can ahead of time. Frequently these simple strategies are enough to improve sleep considerably!

Many, many thanks to everyone who sent flowers, donations, and cards, and for all the kind words, thoughts and prayers in support of me and my family at the time of my father's passing. It was a great comfort knowing you were keeping us in your prayers; we felt literally lifted up during the long and sometimes very trying week.

My father led what I consider to be an exemplary life. During his 50-year career as a merchant, making everyone feel comfortable and welcome was his specialty. I'm sorry to be physically separated from him, but it's only temporary, and I know beyond doubt he is in a wonderful place, surrounded by loved ones who welcomed him every bit as much as he welcomed others while he was alive.

In God's love,
Alan Chambers

Warsaw First UMC
Reverend Toni Carmer
179 S Indiana St
Warsaw IN 46580-2805

Thought you as the congregation of Warsaw First UMC would like to see the letter from the Bishop thanking us for fulfilling our 10% tithe to the Conference.

~ Toni

I am writing you this letter to thank you and your congregation for your faithful payment of your 2010 tithes and district askings. According to our records, you are one of 629 churches which tithed at the 100% level! Thank you!

Because of your faithfulness, the budget of the Annual Conference is supported, our denomination's shared ministries are supported, and the necessary underpinning has been provided for all of the additional mission giving, Advance Special, special offerings, and related efforts which depend upon our connectional structure.

Because of your faithfulness to tithing, a young child was able to make her first public commitment to Christ through our camping program, a pastor's spouse was able to be treated for a life-threatening disease without experiencing catastrophic financial drain, and a college student received guidance from a university chaplain. Along with these ministries you have enabled your church to be connected to people in need around the world.

Because of your faithfulness and the faithfulness of our other churches, the Indiana Conference finished 2010 "in the black" and continues to be in a strong financial position in 2011.

Thank you for your generous giving in the past, and thank you for your faithfulness this year in meeting your obligations and opportunities for ministry. I trust that you will finish this year faithfully.

May God continue to bless you with generous hearts and with abundant resources to share.

Yours in Christ,

Bishop Michael J. Coyner
